In July 2020, in lieu of the annual live event, Brainstorm Health continued its success with a first-ever two-day virtual event. Fortune gathered the most creative and influential leaders together, to talk about what we’ve learned from the COVID-19 pandemic, how we now must reinvent health care and well-being as we know it and how to weather the continuing storm and prepare for the next one.

The two days of content brought in over 1.6 Billion press impressions and helped to launch Fortune’s industry leading virtual event platform.
